DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1, 32-48, 56-62, 63-80 and 88-94, drawn to fuel cell units, classified in class 429, subclass 34.
 - II. Claims 49-55 and 81-87, drawn to composite block of fuel cells, classified in class 429, subclass 12.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination of Group II (i.e. the composite block of fuel cells) does not require the particulars of the specific fluid port of the subcombination for patentability. For instance, the combination of Group II can also be patentable by comprising a subcombination including a passage opening in the fluid guiding element. Accordingly, the combination of Group II can be comprised of two different and separate subcombinations. That is to say, the subcombination including the specific fluid port and the subcombination including the passage fluid in the guiding element are evidence that the combination of Group II does not require the specific of one subcombination for patentability. The subcombination has separate utility such as providing a suitable fuel cell unit for power generation.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

In addition, further restriction is required. Thus, applicant must elect one (1) of the above groups and one (1) of the species below.

5. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species 1: the first embodiment (Figure 8);

Species 2: the second embodiment (Figure 9);

Species 3: the third embodiment (Figure 10);

Species 4: the fourth embodiment (Figure 11);

Species 5: the fifth embodiment (Figure 12)

The species are independent or distinct because they all correspond to mutually exclusive embodiment which do not overlap in scope.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim appears to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
